

Re: What license? / permission for use in OpenStreetMap

From Glenn Woolley <glenn@woolley.info>

To Harry Bond <hrbond@pm.me>

Date Monday, 1 April 2024 at 17:13

Hi Harry

You are welcome to use any data from the site subject to the agreed attribution, however I must tell you that there is no underlying database available for you to use.

Regards

Glenn

The Lost Pubs Project

Sender notified by

Mailtrack

On Sun, 31 Mar 2024 at 22:08, Harry Bond <hrbond@pm.me> wrote:

Hi!

Thank you for maintaining this incredible dataset, I'm an OpenStreetMap (OSM) contributor (an open data project similar to Wikipedia, but a map), and I was wondering what licence the data is under?

The main reason I'd like to use this data for OSM is to validate the marked pubs in OSM. With permission to use this data, we could find closed pubs that haven't yet been removed from OSM, making it easier to find the remaining pubs.

As OpenStreetMap is published under an open data licence (ODbL 1.0), we require written permission to use any data which is not public domain. Would you be able to provide a written waiver for the map's use in updating OSM?

The Lost Pubs Project will be formally credited in any changesets created when updating the map, on a page on the OSM Wiki, and prominently if any online validation tool is made.

If you have any questions, please let me know!

Many thanks,

Harry

OSM contributor

Sent with Proton Mail secure email.